Due Date: Upon Receipt / As per Agreement

Project Description

StyleSense.AI is a next-generation, AI-first fashion ecosystem designed to bridge the gap between digital inspiration and physical reality. It transforms the static e-commerce experience into an interactive, personalized journey where users can discover, visualize, and validate their style choices in real-time.

Current Project Status

Delivered: Static website functionality with backend relying on APIs.

Pending: Shifting backend from APIs to Machine Learning trained models (dataset integration and training for FYP).
